New Kit!

The second phase of new kit orders is about to be dispatched and with luck will be with you by the weekend. Some 45/50 parcels are being sent out and will go to your home address. Richard tells me that in a few cases, although he placed the order correctly in accordance with your instructions, at the Adidas end some sizes were incorrectly entered on its system. Richard thinks he's spotted all the orders concerned and will get you replacement items asap. Please ring him if you have any queries. The third phase order which was placed at the end of September is on track to be with you by the end of November.

If any of you have not yet ordered the new playing kit, please do this as soon as you can. We don't want anyone left behind!!

Thanks, Spence

KITCH DID YOU HEAR THAT YOUR WIFE SCORED A GOAL??!!!

UMPIRES URGENTLY NEEDED

The club urgently requires Level 1 umpires to comply with their League obligations. England Hockey have restructured their courses to make qualification more user friendly, including on-line video clips and explanation and application of the rules and attendance at a day course.

There are 2 courses in Essex being run in the near future

SUNDAY 27TH OCTOBER AT REDBRIDGE

SUNDAY 3RD NOVEMBER DETAILS TO BE ADVISED

The organiser is Paul Sexby, email ehl1u@btinternet.com with whom interested can be registered and information obtained.

If there are course fees to pay the club will meet these so people are not out of pocket. Obviously if there is anyone out there who has a level 1 qualification (or higher) but has not made this known to Bunny could they do so please.

Meet the CHC Captains!

First up in Meet the CHC Captains is Kirsty Dailly, Captain of our Ladies 5th XI team who play in Essex Division 5 . They're off to a great start this season and long may that continue, maybe you ladies can come up with a nickname for your captain?!!

Nickname?

I would love to have a nickname but I've never been given one...Mrs D is about as close as I've got!

Position played?

Hmmm I've only been playing a year, mostly in defence last season, right wing in summer league and I've played myself Right Half and centre mid this season so far...so you could say I'm either a utility player or just indecisive.

Sporting Idol?

My husband Christian was a professional footballer and although it may be corny he is my sporting idol. I've seen first hand the commitment, dedication and sacrifices it takes to play at the highest level, I'm very proud of him.

Funniest moment on a hockey pitch?

I don't remember ever laughing on the pitch...too busy trying to breathe but with the bunch of players I've got this season I know I'm guaranteed a few funny moments over the coming months.

Proudest hockey moment(s)?

Being awarded "Most Improved Player" at the end of season awards last year. Having not played for 25 years I really couldn't have got any worse but it felt like a big achievement anyway and I really love that tiny shield I was given. As captain, I was very proud winning our first league game of the season with a brilliant bunch of players, some of whom I'd encouraged to come "back to hockey" after literally DECADES of not playing!!

Which famous person would you most like to have dinner with?

Richard Branson, I think he'd be fantastic company.

Would you rather be attacked by one horse-sized duck, or fifty duck-sized horses?

Fifty duck sized horses as long as I have my hockey stick in my hand.
