CHC BEER & CIDER FESTIVAL!! - ANOTHER GREAT WEEKEND AT CHC HQ!

The beer festival opened its doors on Friday evening and had great support, the best yet! Saturday had a steady flow all day long with the Evergreens and Men's 1st XI making a good dent in the beers! The evening entertainment arrived and some great music played, as always, from Deryck's band – details below. Some smooth movers ventured onto the 'dance' floor including David 'the hips' Kitchiner along with a couple of annual groupies!

A massive thank you must go to Robert Nourse for his efforts over the weekend, I didn't see him stop and I was up there for the majority of the weekend! Thanks to his little helpers, too many to name but as always, more support on the days needed. Same old story of, the more of us there are, the less time we all spend behind the bar...these events don't run themselves!

Thanks also to the Camra members for coming along, CCC members and any others who make it an annual occasion, it's nice to welcome you every year.

If anyone is wondering where the third bar table is, ask Buddy & Emu!

Team: Men's Evergreens

1) Ed, thank you for joining us. As the current holder of the club's coveted 'Top Scorer' award, how disappointing is it being 11 goals off the lead at this stage of the season?

Obviously a little disappointed especially as I've missed more than I've scored this season. (I'm sure the Evergreens are all nodding knowingly as they read this...) Having said that, Gill and the other Ladies 4s are having such a great season, the Top Scorer's title was gone well before Christmas....

2) Between yourself and arch-nemesis and bitter rival Jonny Wilcox you've scored a healthy percentage of the club's goals over the last few seasons. Would you care to confirm or deny the rumours that the rivalry between you is so intense that you've not spoken since the inception of Top Scorers & Serial Offenders back in 2010?

Jonny who? Actually, Jonny and I don't speak a lot but he often communicates by sticking his fingers up at me to let me know how many goals he's scored. I think that what he's trying to tell me anyway...? Seriously though, I have a very healthy respect for Jonny - he is a great forward who consistently scores bags of goals - and he's a nice chap too.

3) Speaking of bitter rivalries, you're only 1 goal from the top of the Men's scoring chart - how confident are you of overhauling the deficit and taking that accolade this season?

As the cliché goes, the season is a marathon not a sprint, so I'll keep plugging away. The Evergreens are having a pretty good season, so the team will definitely keep creating chances. Hopefully I'll be able to improve my conversion rate and grab a few more before the end of the season.

4) Quantity of goals clearly isn't a problem for you, but can we discuss the quality of the goals? Would you say your goals have a combined yardage of 15 (19 goals so far) or they're all 'roofers' from the top of the D?

Actually, I think you may be overestimating the yardage and it is fair to say that some of them haven't even hit the backboard - but as I tell my boys however they go in, i.e. roofers or dribblers, they only ever count as one. A goal is a goal and they're all good ones... (I actually did get a very nice roofer at Canterbury recently which I will be very pleased to tell anyone about over a beer!)

5) Ignoring the Ladies 4's for a second, there isn't a more high-profile scrap for top team goal scorer than in the Men's Evergreens - as you lead David 'Kitch' Kitchiner by just one goal. Can you confirm or deny the pair of you have stopped passing to one another in your individual bids for success?

Kitch is a great player and has added a lot to the Evergreens play this season. However, the rivalry goes back a long way and we actually stopped passing to each other at the turn of the century over a small dispute as to who had the longer stick...neither of us is backing down on this one.

6) Finally, can you tell us how you almost infinitely raised the Evergreen's card total through their history earlier on this season?

Honestly, all I tried to do was provide the Phoenix umpire with some umpire coaching during the game. I think he was pleased to receive it as he called me over to discuss my advice in greater detail. I don't think there was ever a risk of being carded really - I genuinely think he enjoyed the colourful way I explained why I thought he needed a greater in-depth knowledge of the rules to ensure his decision making reaches a higher level.
